Ike Welcome Disrupted By Leftist Outbursts

Uruguayan Incidents Put Down

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Leftist student crowds shouting anti-U.S. and pro-Chastro slogans made a violent and noisy effort to upset an enthusiastic Uruguayan welcome for President Eisenhower Wednesday at the windup of his South American tour.

The outbursts were contained by armed police force.

Students Wednesday night countered with charges of police brutality.

Tear Gas

At one point the touring President got an eye-smarting whiff of tear gas as he rode along in his car.

Police fought down a series of three demonstrations—two during the day and one at night—using sabers, tear gas, fire hose serving as "water cannon" and a bit of warning gunfire.

President Eisenhower dismissed the incidents as of little importance. He leaves an hour earlier than originally scheduled Thursday for a rest in Puerto Rico en route home to the White House. The last-minute decision to leave early was not explained.

After the battles, the Uruguayan University Students Federation late Wednesday night issued a statement charging police handled their demonstrations with brutality.

Student Shot

It reported one student was shot, another wounded by a police sabre and that "police attacks" on students included a raid on the engineering students club, many of whose members were arrested.

Uruguay, one of the smaller but more literate and enlightened Latin American nations, had been extra-cautiously eased by security forces in advance as a likely trouble spot on the Eisenhower tour because:

1. Two years ago Vice President Richard M. Nixon had been jeered.

2. Threats of demonstrations against Eisenhower here in connection with the California Chessman case led to a reprieve from the death chamber and removed temporarily the point of one potential anti-U.S. slogan.

3. Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro, in his anti-U.S. manifestations, had become a rallying cry here for leftists.

Five Home Today

Thursday morning, Eisenhower flies homeward after having visited, in order, Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay. He occasioned some demonstrations elsewhere but none like the ones in Montevideo.

The two daytime demonstrations came as the President went to speak to the Uruguayan Congress.

Board Expels Nine Negroes From College

By The Associated Press

NINE Negro students were ordered expelled from an Alabama college Wednesday while more than 50 Negro men and women were arrested in Nashville, Tenn., after refusing to leave a bus station lunch counter in the face of a bomb threat.

No bomb was found, however. The expulsions and arrests came while new sit-down demonstrations flared in Florida, Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina in protest against segregated eating facilities.

The Alabama Board of Education ordered nine students expelled from Alabama State College at Montgomery and 20 others placed on probation for taking part in recent anti-segregation demonstrations. The expulsion order is effective Friday, last day of the current quarter.

Gov. John Patterson told the board the action was necessary "to prevent bloodshed in this city."

Good Morning!

Poverty is not a disgrace. That is the only thing to be said for it, too.

Filibuster Extended By Southern Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), whose father Huey P. Long was a mighty filibuster, helped Wednesday to carry along the Southern fight against civil rights legislation in the Senate.

The present-day senator, while a less flamboyant man than the fabulous Huey, went into action twice.

Ellender Falters

Heavily outvoted on the first effort, he was ready again with a formal speech when the voice of Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), surprisingly faltered.

Wednesday was the third day of round-the-clock sessions aimed at smashing the Dixie filibuster. The Senate took a 15-minute morning recess for the first actual break since continuous sessions began at noon Monday.

With no sign of weakening on either side, it appeared the deadlock and the continuous sessions would run well into next week and maybe longer—probably with a break over Sunday.

Republican senators set a party meeting for Thursday afternoon, and the likelihood was that they would discuss civil rights strategy.

Ellender's voice, after hours of strong speaking, grew weak toward noon, when the time arrived for the daily prayer by the chaplain.

He did not resume the floor after the prayer and other daily routine had been attended to, but gave it up to Long.

Long keyed his speech to a familiar Southern charge—that the senators pressing for a new civil rights law are interested more in Negro votes for themselves than in protecting Negroes' rights.

Yields To Symington

Long had made only a small part of the speech when he yielded the floor to a nonfilibuster, Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), who wanted to make a long speech on national defense.

The arrangement was that Long could resume the floor when Symington finished.

Quake Toll Estimated At Over 3,000

AGADIR, Morocco (AP)—Mass burials began Wednesday while relief squads still searched for the living in quake-stricken Agadir. A Red Cross official estimated more than 3,000 persons had been killed in this once gay Atlantic Coast town. Stunned survivors streamed away.

The estimate of more than 3,000 dead—three times the original Moroccan government figure—was made by Dr. Albert A. Rainhard, who flew in from International Red Cross headquarters at Geneva.

That would be the greatest toll of an earthquake since 23,000 were killed at Erzincan, Turkey, Dec. 27, 1939.

5,000 Injured

Rainhard said more than 5,000 had been injured by Agadir's two giant temblors, fires, and the wash of a tidal wave across the white beaches early Tuesday.

No one could say for certain how many bodies lay under the mountainous rubble of twisted steel and crumbled walls. Most of the victims were Berbers and Arabs, but there were a number of Europeans and a few American tourists.

There were some still living, trapped by fallen beams and girders, or huddled in makeshift haven beneath the cover of piled wreckage.

Overhead the powerful engines of U. S. and French military transports roared in an airlift carrying in medicines and other supplies and carrying out the injured to hospitals set up at other Moroccan cities.

Mass Burial

Medical teams gave aid at a hospital set up at the French airbase outside Agadir. Nearby a hundred bodies were consigned to a mass grave.

Aid streamed in from many countries. Ships at sea, rolling equipment, planes, medical supplies, surgeons, nurses—all were offered and accepted.

King Mohammed V who, with his son, Crown Prince Moulay Hassan, hurried to Agadir a few hours after the quakes, has vowed that the city will rise again.

The prince said his father had told him he expects to preside at dedication of the new Agadir in 1961, on the anniversary of Moroccan independence March 2. He announced no specific plans.

The job of rebuilding Agadir will be gigantic. A white-walled city of 40,000 people has become a hodgepodge of destruction. And it is a city of the dead.

Many buildings were jammed downward as though crushed by sledge-hammer blows. One big structure collapsed vertically, its floors tiered like a layer cake.

Wage Tax Studied In Bangor Area

ALL SIX districts of the Bangor Area Joint School Board met last night and seriously considered levying a wage tax in each of the six districts.

If the program goes into effect one tax collector will be hired to make the collections for all districts.

At the present time, Washington Township and Roseto have levied a wage tax and Bangor is seriously thinking about doing the same.

If all the districts would levy a wage tax they feel it would solve many of the financial problems.

All the districts plan to have a representative meet with Herbert B. Crane, financial advisor of the jointure, on Tuesday night.

The Department of Public Instruction has refused the additional four classrooms requested to the Senior High School plans. Officials in the department say census show there is no need for them.

Education committee was authorized to make a study of the salary proposal offered by the teacher's organization.

Resignation of Miss Adalene Duvall, principal of Roosevelt Elementary School, was accepted with regret.

She has accepted a position in the Bristol-DelHaas school system, effective April 1, 1960. Miss Duvall has taught in the Bangor schools for more than 30 years.

Governor Refuses To Set Estimate Of Track Yield

HARRISBURG (AP)—An accurate estimate of how much revenue Pennsylvania would get from proposed pari-mutuel harness racing tracks is impossible, Gov. David L. Lawrence said Wednesday.

At a news conference, the governor was asked whether his administration had an estimate of what the Commonwealth could count on in new revenue from race track gambling. He replied:

"Advocates (of the bill) said it would produce great sums of money for the state treasury. But to would be the wildest type of estimate the amount of revenue would be the wildest type of guess."

Under the law, the Harness Racing Fund would get five per cent of admissions and wagering and 50 per cent of breakage. The General Fund would receive 75 per cent of this money after expenses were deducted for commission operations and the remainder would be distributed to county agricultural associations.

Not Chief Proponent

Lawrence replied affirmatively when asked if he thought horse racing was a wholesome sport. "I've told you that many times

... but don't get me in the position as a chief advocate of racing. I'm not," he added.

He said the Pennsylvania Council of Churches was entitled to its position opposing legalized gambling at racing tracks just as racing advocates were entitled to their views.

"I'm not critical of the Council of Churches for their stand," he noted.

Lawrence said his signing of the harness race bill passed by the 1959 Legislature merely carried out an election pledge made by Democrats and Republicans alike to approve such a measure as a revenue-raiser if the Assembly passed it.

He contended, however, that his administration wasn't behind highly organized efforts to get the bill through the Legislature.

Distribute Leaflets

The Council of Churches, representing 18 Protestant denominations, is distributing thousands of pamphlets, handbills and posters urging that voters in the April 26 primary reject efforts to have pari-mutuel wagering approved in 13 counties.

Referenda will be held in Philadelphia, Allegheny, Berks, Bucks, Crawford, Delaware, Erie, Fayette, Lehigh, Luzerne, Monroe, Northumberland and Westmoreland counties.

Other news conference developments:

Philadelphia Elections — Lawrence said Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern and Dist. Atty. Victor Blane will meet in Philadelphia Thursday to discuss alleged voting frauds in that Democratic stronghold.

Capital Punishment — The governor said he was personally opposed to capital punishment but declined to say what he would do if the Legislature passed a law abolishing it.

Education Study — A committee will be formed in about a week to study Pennsylvania education needs, Lawrence said.

National Politics — He doubted the Democratic party's effectiveness would be endangered by North-South rifts over the civil rights debate in Congress.

Traffic Safety — Lawrence said mostly all of the correspondence he has received on his broad, new traffic safety program was favorable.

Basic Moral Problem — Acting on his tips, Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank D. Hogan's office has raided eight ghost-writing agencies seizing files and records of transactions with students.

It was reported that just one firm's books showed hundreds of theses, necessary for obtaining master's degrees, had been done for students throughout the nation. Names were withheld.

Fees were said to range from a few hundred dollars to more than $3,000, depending on the lengths of the academic manuscripts and amount of research required. Undergraduates could get a term paper done for $50. "Administrators in every large institution in America have been fighting this problem," commented Dr. Hollis L. Caswell, president of Columbia Teachers College.

It is one more illustration of the basic moral problem this country faces."

Jury Clears Van Rie Of Murder Count

BOSTON (AP) — Willem Van Rie, philandering Dutch radio operator, was cleared of murder Wednesday in the strange death of his shipboard sweetheart, pretty Lynn Kauffman, an American traveler.

The acquittal verdict by an all-male jury not only spared Van Rie's life but set him free on the spot. Once he clears up his status with immigration authorities he may be on his way home to his native Netherlands.

Van Rie, 31, threw his hands to his head and broke into a misty-eyed grin as the verdict climaxed an all-night marathon in which the jury deliberated for almost 15 uninterrupted hours.

The finding was reached at 8:42 a. m. EST and was announced to Superior Court Judge Frank Murray 30 minutes later.

Became Worried

"I was getting a little worried," the handsome, blue-eyed Van Rie said afterwards.

He and his loyal wife, both Roman Catholics, spent hours saying their rosary beads as dark of night gave way to an icy, marble-pink dawn over the courthouse on Boston's Beacon Hill.

Van Rie's fears were well founded at one stage of the deliberations, jury foreman Charles A. Carroll, a telephone company communications man, said the panel had split 6-6 on the first 20 ballots.

The verdict deepened the mystery of the Sept. 18, 1959, death of Miss Kauffman, 23, beautiful divorcee and daughter of a Child 44-day voyage home from cargo industrialist. Her death ended the Orient.

Murder Recalled

Her baffling disappearance from Van Rie's Dutch freighter Utrecht and the finding of her battered body on a harbor island next day recalled the end of Starr Faithfull, nearly 30 years ago. Her body washed ashore in New York after a wild bon voyage party aboard an ocean liner. To this day Starr's death is another unsolved saga of the restless sea.

Miss Kauffman's body, nude from the waist up, washed ashore on Spectacle Island, a desolate spit in Boston Harbor, nearly 20 hours after the Utrecht had sailed for New York. As a passenger she and Van Rie had a passionate love affair beginning nine days after the vessel had left Singapore last Aug. 5.

Judge Dissolves Coal Firm Ban

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A preliminary injunction restraining two coal firms from removing equipment from two closed Coaldale anthracite mines was dissolved Wednesday by Judge James J. Curran in Schuylkill County court.

Five of some 1,200 miners idled by Monday's closing had obtained the injunction last Saturday to prevent the Coaldale Mining Co. and the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. from removing any equipment or pumps.

The miners said they believed they had rights under the lease which Coaldale had made with Lehigh Navigation.

THIS SECTION of Lower Stokes Mill Road, washed out by 1955 flood, will be rebuilt by State Highways Department. Bids on constructing roadway and protecting wall will be sought this month, Rep. Van D. Yetter reported yesterday. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

State To Rebuild Washed-Out Road

LEGISLATIVE ROUTE 45064, known locally as the Lower Stokes Mill Road, will be rebuilt for a distance of 17 mile at the point where it was washed out by the August 1955 flood.

Such was the word received yesterday by Rep. Van D. Yetter (D-Monroe) from the State Highways Department in Harrisburg.

The announcement said the state will place legal advertising on March 25 calling for bids on the construction project.

Joins Fifth St.

The road parallels Brodheads Creek for about a mile south of the new bridge at Stokes Mill, Stroud Township. At the Michael J. Kostina property, where the roadway was destroyed by flood waters, Stokes Mill Road turns sharply west and connects with N. Fifth St.

The new roadway will be 19 feet four inches wide and of bituminous surface on a crushed aggregate base eight inches deep. Protecting the road will be a rock embankment along the creek-side slopes.

Located on a residential service route, the newly rebuilt section will be constructed at a minimum of 15 feet above the stream bed. It will be built by 100 percent state funds, Rep. Yetter reported.

World Youth Leader Mum At Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young New Yorker who headed the U.S. delegation to the World Youth Festival in Vienna last year refused Wednesday to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities anything about himself or the festival.

Marvin Markman, 20, pleaded the fifth amendment to all questions after giving his name and address.

Markman was questioned in secret by the committee, which is investigating Communist influences among American youth.

Chairman Francis E. Walter, who later released a report on Markman's appearance, said the youth was identified by witnesses in an earlier hearing as a Communist.

He was chairman of the U.S. Youth Festival Committee, the ruling body of the 350-member delegation to the Vienna festival. The great majority of the delegation has been characterized by other witnesses as anti-Communists.

New Broadcast License Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plan for licensing radio and TV stations for less than the usual three-year period was announced Wednesday by the Federal Communications Commission.

The commission, which said it proposed to change its rules in this respect, invited comment by April 1.

The action is one of a series of moves by FCC in recent months to put tighter reins on broadcasting outlets short of actual censorship of programs.

May 2 Fixed As Chessman Death Date

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Convict-author Caryl Chessman's ninth execution date was set Wednesday.

Superior Court Judge Clement D. Nye set May 2 as the new death date for the man who has eluded death for 11½ years.

Chessman's attorneys argued that the court could not set a new date as a 60-day reprieve, granted Feb. 19 by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, has not expired yet.

Judge Nye held that sentencing was legal, as long as the new execution date is after the end of the 60-day period.

Chessman's attorneys, A. L. Wirin and George T. Davis, argued nearly two hours.

Attorney Reprimanded

Wirin said the reprieve had the effect of withdrawing the previous sentence, and any resentencing by the court would constitute a premature judgment.

Davis provoked a reprimand by suggesting Judge Nye withhold sentencing until after the 60-day reprieve because of the worldwide interest.

Davis said, "If you set a new execution date you will trigger one of the biggest emotional explosions not only in California but throughout the world."

The building, respectable judge told Davis: "I am somewhat amazed by your argument that I have sworn to uphold but that I have sworn to uphold but by a public clamor. I will never be intimidated by some mythical explosion—which I suspect is purely synthetic and has been manufactured."

Snowstorm Sweeps Into Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press

A NEW snowstorm swirled into Pennsylvania from the south Wednesday night with strong wind.

The weather bureau predicted the storm would deposit about five inches of fresh snow in the state with up to 10 inches in mountainous sections. Sleet mixed with snow was forecast for southwestern Pennsylvania counties on Thursday.

The storm rolled into Washington and Fayette counties in the southwestern section late Wednesday night. The heavy fall deposited an inch or two of snow within two hours. Wind was reported quite strong. Roads were slippery and hazardous.

Pittsburgh had a fine snow that quickly made streets slippery. A fine snow also fell in the mountainous counties of Somerset, Bedford and Cambria.

Heavy Snow Heads Into East Coast

By The Associated Press

CRIPPLING ice and mountainous snows stunned a vast expanse of the nation Wednesday, cutting off small towns, closing schools and businesses, halting transportation and causing millions of dollars damage.

The violent weather stretched more than 1,000 miles from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast states, with the Southland, border states and lower Midwest, catching the brunt of the storms.

Dixie Paralyzed

Dixie, battered in recent weeks by a series of deadly storms, lay paralyzed in a sheet of ice which toppled hundreds of trees in Louisiana and Arkansas, snapped power lines leaving thousands helpless without electricity, and caused hundreds of accidents.

A blinding snow storm, the fourth of the winter, raged through Tennessee and Kentucky, blocking mountain roads, marooning hundreds of motorists at the base of hills and forcing postponement of sports events and school classes.

Winds of 33 miles an hour powered snow into drifts in southeast Indiana. Evansville, Ind., was swamped with 5 to 6 inches and the Weather Bureau said the amount of snow there was the most since 1912.

Heaviest Since 1947

Southern Illinois had the heaviest snow since 1947, with 8 to 10 inches on the ground and more falling. Roads in the nearby St. Louis area were nearly impassable as 5 inches of new snow swirled into the state.

Seventeen deaths were attributed to the bad weather—6 each in Colorado and Texas, 3 in Kansas and 1 each in Missouri and Iowa.

The fresh snowfalls in Kansas brought the total on the ground at Russell to 22 inches, 13 at Kansas City and 12 at Columbia. Kansas City had 7 inches Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau said the giant storm would move northeast and heavy snow warnings—of up to 10 inches—were up from eastern Iowa into New Jersey.

The ice and freezing rain belt reached from east Texas to Virginia.

Ice Snaps Lines

Marshall, a city of 32,000 in eastern Texas, was immobilized by the ice, which peeled limbs from trees and snapped power and telephone lines.

Traffic and business came to a stop in Marshall. Homes and shops that depend on electricity to operate gas furnaces lacked heat and light.

Thousands of other homes in northeast Texas and northwest Louisiana were left without electricity for hours.

Atlanta's one million residents skidded on a two-inch sheet of ice which suspended virtually all transportation for hours. Schools called off classes and businesses shut down early. The University of Georgia at Athens closed and urged students to stay in their dormitories.

Damage In Millions

Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars at Gadsden, Huntsville and the Arab-Albertville areas of north Alabama. About 2,000 residents of outlying areas near Gadsden abandoned their homes and took shelter elsewhere when the heavy ice broke power lines supplying their houses.

Trees in the south Arkansas pine forests were crushed to the ground under the ice and damage was expected to reach into the millions. The loss of trees in Louisiana was set at more than a million dollars.

Arkansas was blanketed with ice, sleet and snow. Horse racing at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs was cancelled for the rest of the week. All schools in the Little Rock area closed.

In Tennessee, 5 inches of snow fell at Knoxville, and hundreds of motorists abandoned their automobiles rather than chance steep hills.

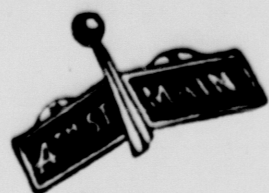

Schools will be closed Thursday in at least 20 of Kentucky's 120 counties as new snows up to 5 inches whirled into the state. Some roads were impassable; all were hazardous. Basketball games were postponed.

Mountains To Sea

The March snow storm struck North Carolina from the mountains to the sea. Six inches were on the ground in spots and (Please Turn To Page Five).

$249,450 Subsidy Payments For Area School Districts

Record Harrisburg Bureau — Fifteen fourth class school districts in Monroe County are on the receiving end of $249,450.70 in state school subsidy payments, a check by the Record disclosed today.

The payments represent the first semi-annual state reimbursement for the 1959-60 school year and total $55,600,000 to nearly 2000 fourth class districts throughout Pennsylvania. Checks already have been processed for individual school districts throughout Pennsylvania. Monroe County school districts and the amount each will receive as certified by the department are as follows:

Barrett Township, $13,880.89; Chestnut Hill Township, $30,500.15; Coolbaugh Township, $27,833.37; Eldred Township, $7,938.62; Jackson Township, $16,284.78; Middle Smithfield Township, $13,352.56; Mt. Pocono Borough, $7,854.28; Paradise Township, $6,988.92; Pocono Township, $31,915.01; Polk Township, $32,576.70; Price Township, $2,329.59; Ross Township, $13,894.99; Smithfield Township, $30,276.60; Tobyhanna Township, $9,361.34; and Tunkhannock Township, $4,463.09.

The payments now being made cover reimbursable teaching units, supplemental payment on account of jointure membership or union and merged districts, extension education, homebound instruction, closed schools and special education. Subsidy payments to first, second and third class districts will be made next month.

Homer L. Gilpin Dies; Kin Settled South Sterling

NEWFOUNDLAND — Homer Lewis Gilpin, community leader and a descendant of the earliest settlers of South Sterling, died yesterday at the "Old Homestead", South Sterling, where he was born 78 years ago.

He was found on the floor of his bedroom by his son James, Dr. R. A. Christman pronounced him dead of a heart attack.

A retired postmaster and farmer, Mr. Gilpin, at the time of his death, owned and operated a general store in South Sterling, in which the post office is located. His daughter, Mrs. Stella Christman, is postmistress.

Homer L. Gilpin

Headed School Board

Mr. Gilpin was elected to the Dreher Township School Board, of which he was president, 41 years ago. He served successively as a board member of the Greene-Dreher Board, Greene-Dreher-Sterling Board and the Southern Wayne Joint School Board.

He had been president of the joint board for the past 10 years.

He was a member and past president of the Wayne County School Board and served as Legislative Chairman from the County Board to the State School Directors Association.

Mr. Gilpin was a charter member of the Newfoundland Rotary Club, past president and a member of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling, P. T. A., honorary member of the Greene-Dreher Chapter Future Farmers of America and had attended all of the 32 annual meetings of the chapter.

He was a member of the South Sterling Methodist Church and its official board, of which he had been secretary for 30 years. He was a member of the South Sterling Adult Bible Class; Salem Lodge 330, F. and A. M.; Keystone Consistory; Greene-Dreher Fire Co.; Greene-Dreher-Sterling Community Fair Association and the Greene-Dreher Alumni Association.

Land To Church

He was the son of the late James M. and Elizabeth Simons Gilpin. His grandparents, Richard and Eliza Gilpin, donated a part of their land known as the Gilpin Settlement, one acre and 20 perches, for the building of the South Sterling Methodist Church in 1853.

The Gilpin family has been traced back, in South Sterling, to the early 1800's and were believed to arrive here from England about 1806.

Mr. Gilpin was preceded in death by his wife, the former Grace Carlton.

Surviving in addition to his son James and daughter, Mrs. Homer Christman are three other daughters, Mrs. Harriet Waltz, Honesdale, Pa., and Mrs. Dorothy Hughes, Bristol, Conn.; one sister, Mrs. Ruth Meyer, nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Gilpin home with Rev. Harry Root, officiating and Rev. Arthur Campbell assisting. Interment

Some Walls Cracked By Dynamiting

BLASTING by the Joseph Beers Construction Co. putting in the Stroudsburg Thruway over Broad St. has caused some cracked walls and ceilings, but in the main the job seems to be progressing with little complaint from nearby residents.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lauffer, at 59 Broad St., said some of the shots bother them, but other than cracks in the ceilings of their living room and bathroom, they say things are about normal.

Mrs. Lauffer said she hears the blast first, then the vibrations follow a moment later shaking the glassware in the home.

The television is bothered during the day, she said, but she doesn't know whether to attribute this to the blasting or the equipment used by the contractor.

Heavier Ones

Dr. and Mrs. David Keller, 55 Broad St., predicted that the present blasting is mild, compared to that coming later.

Dr. Keller said the solid strata of rock running through the area will prove tougher later, and heavier charges will have to be used. He did not disclose his source of information.

The Kellers said no cracks were visible before the blasting, but they now have a rather large crack in their dining room, and heavier charges will have to be used. He did not disclose his source of information.

Mrs. Floyd Bachman, at 49 Broad St., said she minded the trucks passing near her home more than the blasting.

The huge vehicles, she said, change gears adjacent to the house creating more vibrations than the shots.

Her husband said he had noticed no cracks in any of the walls or in the cellar.

No Effect

The Bachmans live just at the edge of the land where the Thruway will be built.

At 422 Colbert St., Mrs. William Pipher said she had noticed no effect upon her home from the blasting. Slight vibrations and the sound when the charge went off were all she heard or felt, she said.

Miss Mary Hall, at 52 Broad St., said her home had not been damaged in any way by the blasts.

The only time one bothered her, she said, was when it was set off later than usual, and at a time the residents were not expecting blasting. However, other than being startled, she said there was no effect.

Heavy Snow Heads East

(Continued From Page One) nearly a foot was expected by dawn. Most roads were impassable without chains, advised the Weather Bureau.

As everywhere else, the snow and sleet forced cancellation of bus runs and airplane flights and closed schools and factories. Road crews fought a mighty battle to keep highways clear in southern Illinois but whistling winds threatened to clog roads in several places. Rural schools shut down here too.

Across the Mississippi River in Missouri U.S. Highways 61 and 67 were snowed shut by a fall which was predicted to reach 10 inches. Schools in Cape Girardeau were ordered closed Thursday.

As the storm drove north the snows grew heavier. Heavy snow warnings — from three to 10 inches — were extended from Missouri, most of Illinois, Indiana, lower Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, west and central North Carolina, southeastern Wisconsin and sections of Arkansas.

Farther west of the storm center, winds kicked up big drifts in Kansas.

State Police warned against all but emergency travel in Oklahoma where snow on the ground ran to eight inches and drifts to two feet.

In southeastern Colorado the Army dispatched troops and bulldozers to open roads through six-foot drifts to beleaguered farms and ranches where 4,000 cattle lacked feed. Old-time ranchers in the area said the snow and cold combinations was the worst in almost 60 years.

A mass of frigid air also covered the northern half of the nation's interior, with a low of -25 reported at Cut Bank, Mont., -17 at Gransburg, Wis. and -11 in Casper, Wyo.

Flood Work Agreement Approved

STROUDSBURG Borough Council yesterday authorized its president and secretary to sign a formal agreement with the Pennsylvania Dept. of Forests and Waters for flood control work here.

In a 10-minute special meeting, Council formally endorsed what it had already agreed to do—acquire rights-of-way and easements for flood control dikes and other construction connected with the project on Broadheads and McMichael Creeks.

Council also approved an agreement with East Stroudsburg whereby each borough "shall be responsible" for the work done within its own limits on the flood control job.

Services Set Friday For O. K. Larson

O. K. LARSON, 76, Stroudsburg, RD 2, died in Gnadent-Huettel Hospital, Lehigh, Tuesday night after a long illness.

He was born in Norway, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Severan Larson, and lived in this country for 33 years. He was associated with the Merchant Marine for many years and was a member of the Knights of Malta, Stroudsburg.

Surviving are his wife; one daughter, Ingrid Peterson, Brooklyn, N. Y., two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in the Kresge Funeral Home, Broadheads, Rev. Robert G. Garner will officiate and burial will be in Green Ridge Cemetery, McMichael.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday after 7 p.m.

Girl Scouts Meet Tonight

EAST STROUDSBURG Girl Scout Neighborhood will meet tonight at 7:30 in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Parish House.

All members are requested to be present to aid in conducting the meeting.

Senate Unit Restores Cut For Area Aid

HAZLETON—The U. S. Senate Appropriations Committee has restored the $200,000 cut in the Department of Commerce's Area Development Office appropriation made by the House of Representatives early in February.

Sen. Hugh J. Scott yesterday informed Victor C. Diehm, president of the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission, that in view of the affirmative committee action, "I do not know of any objection to it, and the restoration should pass the full Senate."

NPIDC Appeals
Following the House cut, NPIDC appealed to Pennsylvania's two Senators to work for the restoration.

The Office of Area Development, under Victor Roterus, director, has rendered valuable assistance to NPIDC and other northeastern Pennsylvania Chambers of Commerce.

Any curtailment of its services, according to Diehm, would cut back its technical assistance program of particular interest to labor surplus areas.

Gets Penn State Degree

LEROY Conrad Cyphers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cyphers of Bartonville, Pa., was graduated from the Pennsylvania State University, at University Park during the mid-term commencement exercises. ## Dear Abby

By All Means, Don't

Dear Abby: If my hair isn't put up in pin curls every night, it looks terrible the next day. I plan to be married next month. Can I go to bed with my hair up in pin curls or do you think my husband will be mad? I can't have permanents because my hair is very fine and it will fuzz. Thank you.

STRAIGHT HAIR

Dear Straight Hair: If you MUST put your hair up in pin curls, do it in the daytime. Let the milkman see you. Let the mailman see you and let the Fuller brush salesman and the lady next door see you. But—Don't let your hubby see you looking like a skinned kitten if you can help it.

Dear Abby: To Too Nice and to all the girls who wonder if it pays to stay nice, may I give my experience:

I was 20 when I started to go steady with the sweetest little girl in town. I had known her all my life. She had no use for necking or spooning, as other girls I had known. I went along with her ideas until one dark night while we were sitting under an apple tree at her place I let her know what I expected of a girl I spent money on.

She jumped up in a rage and kicked me in the face breaking one of my front teeth off. Then she ran into the house and opened the front door and threw out my hat and coat.

I wrote to her twice but she returned my letters unopened. Then I enlisted in the Spanish-American War. I was gone two years. When I returned home she sent word through my sister that she wanted to see me. She gave me another chance and a romance blossomed. Yes, we were married. We had two daughters and a son.

I am the only one left of our family. Abby, and I am soon to be 57. When I want to laugh I recall the many times in our marriage when I'd get out of line and my wife would say, "Calm down, Darling, or I'll kick your other teeth out." Then we were sweethearts again.

OLD-TIMER

Dear Abby: I am so mixed up I don't know what to do. My parents accuse me of everything under the sun. Things I wouldn't even think of doing. If I really did those things I wish I were dead any way.

My girlfriend and I have been talking about running away. We are both 16. Don't tell me to talk to my parents because they are the reason I want to leave home. I can't stand much more of this.

UNHAPPY GIRL

Dear Unhappy: Children who regard their parents as "the enemy" are the saddest, most mistaken people in the world. If you can't talk to your parents, find someone else to talk to. Isn't there a favorite relative, teacher or clergyman in whom you could confide? Running away will only complicate matters. Try to develop a better relationship with your parents through the guidance of an understanding adult. Your parents probably can't stand much more of "this" either.

Confidential To Louise At The Airport: Your gay blade is skating on thin ice. If you love him, tell him.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Three Churches Will Join In Barrett Twp. Service

THE three Protestant Churches of Barrett, Canadensis Moravian and Methodist Churches, and the Mountainhome Methodist Church, are cooperating in the World Day of Prayer Service in the Canadensis Methodist Church tomorrow night at 7:45. This service will be the culmination of a series of meetings held during the week in the cooperating churches. The purpose of the united meetings has been to draw all the members of the community into one fellowship of Christian worshipers as we enter the season of Lent.

The guest speaker for the service will be Harry V. Newkirk, presently a reading consultant in the East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

Newkirk received his formal education at the Universities of Michigan and Colgate in New York. He had entered the ministry of the Baptist Church and took his theological training in Crozer Seminary, Chester, Pa. The field of public education is his chosen vocation. The theme of the service will be "Worship Through Our Prayer Life."

Assisting in the service will be several members of the Canadensis Church. The Chancel Choir, Mrs. Donald Price, director, will sing the familiar anthem "Sanctus" arranged by

Harry V. Newkirk

Schubert. The Junior Choir, Mrs. John O'Neill, director, will sing, "The Man of Sorrows," by Adams. George Biset of Buck Hill Falls is the organist. Nursery facilities will be available in the Church Cottage for the care of young children while their parents attend the evening worship. Adequate parking facilities are adjacent to the church building. An invitation is extended to all the community members to participate in this world-wide service of prayer.

West Delays Note To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Big Three yesterday unexpectedly delayed notifying the Soviet Union of their intention of defying what they say is a Soviet-imposed 10,000-foot ceiling on supply flights to West Berlin.

Top officials gave no explanation for the delay. But they insisted it did not change the joint decision to resume such flights soon, regardless of Soviet objections.

For the second straight day, the State Department refused to confirm or deny reports of such an American-British-French plan.

A spokesman, however, told a news conference: "There is no altitude limitation whatsoever that we recognize."

Press officer Lincoln White, in making the comment, shrugged aside a warning from Soviet authorities in East Germany that such flights would violate past practices.

Weather Outlook For Five Days

EXTENDED forecast for March 3, through Monday, March 7:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and Mid Atlantic States — Temperatures will average 3-7 degrees below normal. Cold throughout the period, but warmer afternoon temperatures over the weekend. Precipitation Thursday and over the north Friday and again Monday may total from a half to one inch.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia—Temperatures will average 3-7 degrees below normal. Cold throughout the period, but some warmer temperatures in the south Friday and warmer about Monday. Precipitation Thursday and Friday and again about Monday may total from a half to one inch.

Ike As Keynote

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower was mentioned yesterday, as a probable keynote speaker for the Republican National Convention in Chicago in July.

Students Make A Cyclotron

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Nearly two years ago a handful of zealous pupils at Central High School resolved to build an atom-smasher.

The physics teacher, Fred Hofkin, had received a grant of $800 from the Heart Assn. of South-eastern Pennsylvania for research. So what better course than to set about making a cyclotron, capable of producing radioactive isotopes for research and treatment of heart and other disease?

Central, being a strictly academic school, has no shop. So the boys decided to build their cyclotron in the basement furnace room.

The boys begged and borrowed materials from coast to coast. A California electronics firm gave $150 worth of vacuum pipe and fittings. The University of Pennsylvania lent a one-ton coil of copper wire, blown glass and other special parts.

Last fall Hofkin, an inspiration to the pupils, took a teaching job elsewhere. But he gave all his spare time to the dedicated group of boys at Central.

Last week, Central High took the wraps off the cyclotron, which builds up an internal speed of up to 40,000 miles a second and has a magnetic force of 16,000 units known as gauss. In a preliminary test, the mechanism blasted its protons right on target.

At top speed, these particles smash into a target in a vacuum chamber. This releases part of the energy of the damaged atoms in the form of rays.

Accuse Workers Of Sitdown

PLAINFIELD, N. J. (AP)—Mack Truck, Inc., accused its employees yesterday of a deliberate slowdown in daily production. E. A. Lewis, industrial relations director of the firm, said the company would take action against the workers' union, Local 343 of United Auto Workers, and the union officials for a continuing breach of contract. A company spokesman said the 1,600 employees, who are paid on the incentive plan, normally work at between 180 and 190 per cent of their quota. Monday, he said, the workers had reduced production to 100 per cent of their quota. Frank Moore, president of the union local, denied that the workers had violated their contract. He said however, that "the men intended to keep pressing by any and all means available to us for a fair and equitable agreement that will protect the livelihood of Mack employees when Mack moves." The company announced last Oct. 21 that it would close down its plant here within two years.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I was amused to read in Margaret MacLaren's story on chickens that, while a lot of people claim that chicken doesn't taste as good as it used to, tests prove that it does, too—even better, maybe.

But the truth of the matter is that no quantity of tests can really prove any such thing, because the basic change is not on the taste of the chicken but in the taste of the taster.

The reason so many brides have to listen to the praise of "Mom's cooking" is that the physical activity, the ravenous appetite and the irresponsibility of the boy who found it so good no longer seasons the taste of the man she married.

No amount of weather bureau statistics proving that we had just as many warm winters with little snow and ice years ago can prove it to today's sit-by-the-fire who went skating and tobogganing and got chilblains in them.

Most of us would rather trust our memories than statistics anyway, even though we know memory plays strange tricks. Children had more fun and behaved better; people were kinder and more friendly; days were longer and sunnier; the snow was deeper and Stokes' Mill swimming pool was warmer and clearer, and everything, including chicken, tasted better.

And how can you prove me wrong—that's the way I remember it!

PTA Gives $125 Toward The Library

Bushkill — The Bushkill Parent Teachers Association held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, February 24.

President Herbert Martin presided over the meeting. Regular reports were given by Treasurer Smith and Secretary DePue.

President Martin and Treasurer Albert Smith Jr. presented in behalf of the PTA $125 in library books to the children.

As their next money raising project it was decided to hold a spaghetti dinner March 31. Guest speaker of the evening was Miss Helen Brown of the East Stroudsburg State College. She showed and narrated slides of her recent trip to our 49th state, Alaska.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Herbert Martin, Mrs. Charles Primrose, Mrs. Fred May and Mrs. Francis Phillips.

Portland Plans For World Day Of Prayer

Portland — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met on Tuesday night in the social room with Mrs. Fred Gardner and Mrs. John Ribble as hostesses.

Plans were completed for the World Day of Prayer Service to be held at the Methodist Church on Friday at 7:45 with the host choir presenting the music and Rev. Robert Keen of Stone Church as the speaker.

World Banks were opened with individual prayers with Miss Ruth Williams in charge. Readings were given by Mrs. Gardner. Others taking part were Mrs. R. W. Beecker, Mrs. Harry Bellis and Mrs. Margaret McCoy.

The baby gifts for the Ingathering to be displayed at Pen Argyl Methodist Church on March 30 at an all-day gathering were brought to the meeting.

City Mission Dramatized By WSCS

Tannersville — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tannersville Methodist Church saw a playlet depicting the work of the City Missions of the Philadelphia Deaconess home at their meeting this week.

Taking part in the play were Beatrice Beseker in the role of the traveler; Ruth Howell as the hospital visitor; Frances Beseker, director; Sylvia Wertheimer, Community Center coordinator; and Jean Howell, young girl.

Sylvia Wertheimer presided at the business meeting. The devotions were led by Beatrice Beseker on the theme "This is the Day."

The members are sewing children's dresses for the Deaconess Home and they were displayed at the meeting. A group plans to attend the Ingathering on March 30 at the Zion Methodist Church, Pen Argyl, when all items donated by the churches of the North District will be on display.

Refreshments were served. Underneath each plate was a message bearing the word "heart" which was also the theme of the Bible verse roll-call.

Mrs. Alvin Transue was received as a new member. Others present were Mrs. Gerald Miller, Mrs. Elsie Dailey, Mrs. Estella Granacher.

Neighborhood Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Stroudsburg Neighborhood Girl Scouts has been called for tonight at 7:30 at the Girl Scout House.

At this meeting the neighborhood will select names which they wish to recommend for the Development Committee working with Scranton Council to work out organization of a new combined council.

Sunday Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kintner and children, Diane, Bobby and Donnie of Minisink Hills entertained as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris of Greenwich, Conn.

Legion Aux. Meeting

American Legion Aux. will meet Thursday night at 8 at the Legion Home, East Stroudsburg.

Smithfield PTA Reviews School Changes From Wood Stoves To Language Labs

The Smithfield School's 1960 program theme for its Parent-Teachers Assn., "Yardsticks of Growth," was brought into sharp focus at the meeting this week in a contrast between the one-room schools of the past and the new "dream" school of a future that is rapidly coming true.

Frank B. Michaels, president of the Monroe Security Trust Co. an alumnus and past teacher in the schools of the township; and Raymond Hartmann, president of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School board, shared the platform.

Both speakers agreed that the contrast between the schools of 50 years ago and today seem unbelievable.

From barefoot pupils who walked uncomplainingly as far as two and a half miles to their one room school, to the pupil of today who is transported by complex bus routes;

From a no-grade class of 65 children to the now routine "special" grades in many subjects;

From one room schools heated by wood stoves tended by one teacher to the auditoriums and multipurpose rooms of the new schools.

These were some of the improvements in educational buildings which the speakers noted from 1878 to 1960.

The delinquent child existed in 1878, Mr. Michaels said, but was usually disciplined effectively by the hickory switch. Teachers received a maximum pay of $35 a month.

Pupils learned and rehearsed by rote each year their ABCs and the multiplication tables. They left school at the end of each day to spend the remaining daylight hours hard at work on the farms, Michaels recalled.

In contrast, Hartmann described the New East Stroudsburg High School which will be open for students of the district next year. He described the functional architecture and color schemes; the "language lab" and short wave radio station; the special shop equipment and the cafeteria providing hot lunch programs.

He also described the plans for the use of the school as a central refuge area in the event of war or other disaster.

At the business meeting with Robert Nichols presiding in the absence of Morgan Hebard Jr., it was announced that the Spring Square Dance will be held April 23 at Mountain Manor in Marshall's Creek.

At the April meeting, Mrs. Pauline Petersen, assistant to the supervising principal of the area schools, will speak, George Levin, program chairman announced.

Mrs. David Cartwright, fine arts chairman, called attention to the 17 framed reproductions of art by old masters bought by the art committee for the school, and to an exhibit of posters from the United Nations hung in the entranceway and halls.

Mrs. Margaret Heller's fourth grade won the attendance award.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee with Mrs. Richard MacDonough, Mrs. Emory Lord, Mrs. Walter Wyckoff and Mrs. Joan Blake in charge.

Now It's Spring Chicken All Year Long

By Margaret MacLaren Home Economist, Monroe Co. Time was when spring chicken was a seasonal item . . . and an expensive one at that. But with today's technical skill in the breeding and feeding of chickens, consumers get a year round product at a price they like to pay.

To bear out this fact, last year Americans set a record by eating 29 pounds of chicken per person. That may sound like a lot but it averages just a little over 1/2 pound each week.

We may contribute the increasing popularity of chicken in part to two reasons: consumers like the taste of the chicken they're getting it in its many convenient forms; and producers take pride in amply supplying the markets with a quality controlled product.

The Department of Agriculture has helped to make our food supply among the safest and most wholesome in the world. It aims to give consumers food that meets high standards of nutrition, and wholesomeness at a reasonable price. To accomplish this, the department has the responsibility for the inspection of meat and poultry moving in interstate commerce. The inspection as it applies to poultry, insures consumers that all products, fresh or processed, are produced under sanitary conditions, are wholesome and are accurately labeled.

The Findings On Flavor — Some people feel that chicken doesn't taste as good as it used to. To them a broiler-fryer that now grows to market age in 9 weeks isn't as tasty as one that grew at a slower pace 30 years ago.

Because of this consumer concern, the USDA made a study of the flavor of the modern and the old fashioned chicken. Scientists compared the modern bird raised on high energy feeds with the slow growing bird on a typical — but less nutritious — 1930 diet.

Taste panels made over 600 comparisons of chicken roasted, broiled, fried, and cooked electronically. No differences in flavor could be detected in the chicken cooked by any of the four methods. It was the panelists' conclusion that broilers and fryers today taste just as good as chicken some 30 years ago.

Consumer Concern About Color — Some consumers have complained about the frequent occurrence of darkened areas in the chicken they buy today. The discolorization of bones and meat in the leg, thigh and breast is due to the seepage of blood from the bone marrow into the surrounding meat. This is more noticeable in young tender chickens because the bones are thin and porous and permit seepage. In a more mature bird, bones are thicker and seepage is less frequent. In young frozen birds the discolorization is less when birds are stored at lower temperatures and for shorter periods of time.

After cooking the color of the meat may vary from a pale pink to brown, depending on the amount of red pigment in the meat. The darkness in meat does not denote an inferior product nor is it harmful.

"Our Favorites" — Most housewives — 94% — who serve broiler-fryers favor the fried version. So if you've fried and failed try this one out for size in your skillet . . .

Fried Chicken (Basic Recipe)

1 broiler-fryer (2-3 lbs.)
1/2 cup flour
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. paprika

Wash and dry chicken. Cut in small serving pieces. Separate the leg and thigh; cut breast in two pieces. Combine flour and seasonings. Coat chicken with flour using paper bag method or roll in flour in a dish. Heat skillet and fry in 1/4 to 1/2 inch fat. Place chicken in hot fat skin side down. When chicken is brown on both sides reduce heat to low and cook uncovered 20-25 minutes on each side. 4 servings.

Out of many a hostess huddle comes this easy to do dish . . . It's recommended for the working woman who likes to entertain but to whom time is a premium.

Baked Chicken Salad
2 c. cooked chicken, 1/2 inch dice
1 1/2 c. celery 1/4 inch dice
1/4 c. chopped toasted almonds
2 tsp. chopped onion Grated rind of 1/4 lemon
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 c. salad dressing
Salt and pepper
1 c. crushed cheese
1 c. crushed potato chips

Combine all ingredients except cheese and chips, toss lightly and put mixture into 1 quart casserole. Sprinkle with cheese. Then top with chips. Bake about 25 minutes at 325°. Serves 4. Try it with cranberry sauce.

Rodney Roberts Honored At Farewell Party

Portland — A farewell party was held on Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts at Stateford in honor of their son, Rodney Roberts, who enlisted in the United States Air Force and is waiting to be called for service.

Guests included Jack Roberts Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Irving Duerr and son, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Stateford, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Avery, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Given Atkins and family, all of Bangor.

It's not too early! . . . won't be long now and you'll be needing some of those spring coats. Why not have them professionally cleaned now and be set and sure for spring & Easter. Keiper's Laundry & Dry Cleaning. HA 1-8920. adv.

Initiation Tonight
Camp 289, Patriotic Order of Americans will hold an important business meeting tonight at 8 at the Odd Fellows Hall. The audit will be read and there will be initiation of candidates. Officers are asked to wear short white dresses. Refreshments will be served by the committee.

The other afternoon I stopped at our Cardcade for a suitable farewell card to accompany a small gift I had for John Meunier. Two of our customers overheard my request to Kathryn Cincotta, and recognized my voice. "You have breakfast with us every morning," they told me. "We always hear your radio program, and we're very interested in your review of Dr. Bailey's address on heart surgery, because we too attended the Consistory banquet. We saw you there." They told me they live at Bangor, and we had a pleasant but rather brief conversation, since Mr. Widmer was waiting to give me a lift up the hill enroute to his own dinner.

Just today (Tuesday) the mail brought me a letter from Mount Bethel, with a generous check enclosed for the Heart Fund. I am wondering if the signature on the check is that of the friendly couple I met in the Cardcade. I can't be sure, of course . . . but in any event, I am very grateful . . . and so is the Monroe County Heart Fund.

From Helena Rubinstein comes this tip for beauty: The new face of glamour is fresh and wholesome, enhanced by the blush of natural-looking rouge. No more looking pale and gaunt! To apply color more evenly, liquid rouge should be mixed (in the palm of the hand) with a bit of silk-tone liquid foundation. It will then apply smoothly, and blend quite miraculously into the natural complexion tone.

Madame Rubinstein also has a few hints for beautiful legs which will soon be shed of stockings. 1—keep legs free from hair with a modern depilatory; 2—soothe the leg skin with a softening body lotion; 3—repeat this exercise at least ten times daily: either standing or lying down, lift one leg, bent at the knee, and stretch it forward; then, in the same position, move it to the side and back again.

(See how much you get FREE . . . just for reading the Wyckoff Shopper column!)

One of the friendliest letters I have ever received arrived just a week ago, and I should like to quote part of it because it expresses in a measure my own feelings toward those who employ me.

My correspondent has been listening to the Wyckoff program since it began, and feels she knows me, as a result. (She does too . . . because looking back over some of my broadcasts, I am sure I have revealed my feelings on many subjects much more freely and openly on the air than I would have occasion to do over the dinner table, or here in the office.) She closes by saying, "I must thank your 'boss' for allowing you to present your program as you do. Most store advertising programs would be limited to the merchandise."

She is right. I have, of course, tried to use discretion in what is discussed on the air, and to do all the public service work which the Wyckoff family would naturally support. But it is pretty wonderful to be employed by a company that has confidence in your common sense, and permits you to do your work in your own way, according to your own judgment.

Madisons Meet Stars At ESSC Tonight In Pro Basketball Tilt

Wally Choice, Indiana Great

Goose Powell, Madison's Clown

THE Easton-Madisons, featuring three of the top scorers in Eastern Professional Basketball and an all-star team of college and pro players meet tonight at 9 p.m. at East Stroudsburg State College.

In a 7 p.m. preliminary game, the Stroud Union High School Faculty and the Varsity "E" Club play. Tickets go on sale at the gate at 6:30. The prices are at Madison Square Garden against the Allentown Jets. The Madisons have been held below the century mark on only two occasions and both times it was Baltimore that provided the strong defense.

Easton's high point output of the season was 136 against Scranton. The lowest was 97.

Lear Leading Scorer

Hal (King) Lear is the team's leading scorer with a 32.6 mark. He is followed by Dick Gaines, 27.4 and Wally Choice, 26.5.

Two Lehigh Valley college players who have scored over 1000 points in three years head the collegiate part of the star's line-up.

Ducky Potter, Moravian, the top Valley scorer broke the 1,000 point barrier a month ago and Charley Ross, of Lafayette joined the club a few weeks ago. Ross scored 30 points in his last outing against Rutgers.

Four pro players, including Cal Ramsey of Williamsport also will play for the stars.

Warrior Girls Top Montclair 55-43 For Seventh Victory

EAST Stroudsburg State College girls' basketball team put together a 30-point first half to down Montclair 55-43 yesterday at Eastburg.

Sandy Brown was the game's top scorer with 23 points, followed by teammate Chris Albright, who hit 17. Helen Vayanos had 16 for the losers.

Seventh Win

The win was the seventh in eight outings for the Warriors, who meet Temple University at home Saturday.

East Stroudsburg opened a 14-9 lead at the end of the first quarter and increased it to 30-15 at halftime.

The Jersey team outscored the locals in the second half but the lead was too great to overcome.

East Stroudsburg hit nine of 16 free throws while Montclair connected on 11 of 14 tries.

College 'Teacher' Speaks To Stroudsburg Lions Club

DR. EUGENE Powers of East Stroudsburg State College was the speaker at Tuesday's session of the Stroudsburg Lions Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel and gave a talk praising teachers and extolling the teaching profession.

Dr. Powers said in introducing that he disliked the term "educator," preferring that of "teacher," and said he was very proud to be counted in that category. He claimed that the attitude of the public toward a teacher should be that the latter is man who is a scholar and an epitome of knowledge in his field.

He emphasized that a teacher is the most important person in a school.

He admitted that a weakness might be in over-emphasis by the teacher on personal security obtainable through tenure laws and said that teachers are one type of workers with whom merit should certainly count.

He praised the system he said exists in Russia at present, where he said much power for reprisal is vested in the teacher, who for certain discipline inflections has the power to lift the membership certificates of students in their junior organization from which he must advance to the full Communist party membership.

This, the speaker said, is tantamount to the teacher having power literally to destroy such a student.

Praising the results of the devoted lives and lives of great teachers he cited President Woodrow Wilson of this country and Zoroaster the great Persian thinker. The immediate conversions of the last named were limited to one, but his ideas were stamped on the development of mankind.

He said the psychology of these great teachers could be summed up in the thought "The more you give the more you have to give." "This is," he said, "the teacher's great reward."

In the business session Zone

Chairman John Regan announced that the Regional Rally of district 2 will be held April 20 at the Eagle's home, Easton, and the event will be in honor of District Governor Ralph Lockard.

The Stroudsburg Club will honor St. Patrick Tuesday, March 15 and the president called on Lion William P. Deering of "O'Shanley's Irish Lions" to tell of the plans. Deering stated that the party will be held in lieu of other programs on the date mentioned and the members are asked to bring their ladies. There will be green carnations, Irish emblems, and other souvenirs for the ladies.

Musical will include Irish numbers by tris of Stroudsburg High School singers directed by Stroudsburg music supervisor Numa Snyder and the committee's theme song "Galway Bay" will be rendered by Mrs. Joseph Barnes. Charles McCarthy will be the pianist.

A brief inspirational talk on the glamor of Ireland's story will be given by Hon. Patrick P. Sherin of Scranton and Mrs. Regina O'Neill of the Penn-Stroud organization will be the Patroness of Honor.

Officiating was Rev. John O'Neill, and interment was in Seese Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Marvin Beeher, Christopher Boehler, James Heckman, Jack Rhinhardt, Charles Ayers and Russell Osborne.

The Daniel G. Warner Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

To Visit 'Mac'

LONDON (AP)—Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel will make a short visit to Britain about mid-March for talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, diplomatic officials reported Wednesday. Ben-Gurion will be returning from the United States, where he is expected to meet President Eisenhower.

Full name of symphonic orchestra conductor Leopold Stokowski is Leopold Antoni Stanislaw Boleslawowicz Stokowski.

SEVERAL old letters and a receipt book from the Adams Express Company ranging in dates from 1898 to 1915 were found in some old files of the Paradise Valley Trout Hatchery last week.

Jim Besecker, night watchman, and a fellow that likes to read such findings called The Daily Record and reported them. The oldest letter is dated Feb. 26, 1898 and deals with a purchase of 100 sheaves of corn fodder, and an expense account in the amount of $17.08. It is signed by H. A. Butler, treasurer, Penn Forest Brook Trout Company, Limited, Mauch Chunk.

In the letter Butler said, "Please advise me whether the 100 sheaves of corn fodder ($2), which you bought from Mr. A. Herpel, is to be charged to the company, or to your personal a/c. I do not understand why Mr. Kemmerer would order corn fodder bought as we have no use for it that I know of."

In regards to the expense account, he adds, "You will also remember that we have already paid Howard $9.76 a/c of his expenses for Harrisburg trip; as I remember it, he was only gone two days, and I cannot understand how his expenses would amount to $17.08 for two days."

The second letter is dated July 29, 1909, and is a carbon copy without any signature.

The letter is addressed to: Charles D. Evans, Agent Wells Fargo & Co. Express, Stroudsburg, and deals with charges made to the sender for the return of cans used in shipping fish via Wells Fargo to Pompton, N.J.

From the receipt book, many shipments were made up and down the east coast. Some of the receivers are: The Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, N.Y.; Bellevue Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia; Hotel Irving, Buffalo, N.Y.; Hotel Sterling, Wilkes-Barre; Hotel Casey, Scranton; Hotel Belvedere, Baltimore, Md. and Hotel Towhatan, Washington, D.C.

Signing for receipt of the shipments was Gard H. O'Hara, agent.

Foreign-Made Road Work Delay Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller—responding to a plea from top Pennsylvania officials—yesterday delayed action on a proposal to use low cost foreign products in building superhighways.

Mueller acted after being told by Pennsylvania Gov. David L. Lawrence that such a plan would harm two great Pennsylvania industries—steel and cement.

Lawrence was joined in his plea by Sens. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) and Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.).

After talking with them for about an hour, Mueller sent them a telegram that the proposal to use foreign imports would not, as planned, go into effect tomorrow but would be put off until May 1.

Mueller said the postponement would give "ample time for considering the possible effect of the directive on Pennsylvania industry and also to consider a legal point raised at a conference today."

Lawrence had asked Mueller to void the directive or at least to see that it is not applied in the northeastern part of the United States.

Pennsylvania leads United States production in production of steel and cement.

Under "buy American" legislation now on the books, foreign-made materials can be used by the federal government if they are priced six per cent or more below the average American-made product.

A Dec. 31 directive issued by the Bureau of Roads, an arm of the Commerce Department, indicated that this policy will be given the go-ahead signal in road construction.

At today's conference, Mueller mentioned that American-made steel is substantially greater in price than 6 per cent. He said he believed cement probably is, too.

Lawrence and his group told Mueller that not only would use of foreign imports endanger employment in steel and cement producing communities but also would harm further the adjacent depressed area in Pennsylvania from which many workers now commute.

Walter, in whose district much of the cement industry is located, said "any lessening of production would cause complete collapse in Eastern Pennsylvania."

Clark added that imports of steel would have "a perceptible effect also on mining bituminous coal, which is used in the steel industry."

SUITLESS SUIT INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—John H. Head says he caught a cold, and it's all the fault of a cleaning shop. He filed a $500 damage suit, claiming he caught the cold when he scammed home without his suit—which he said the cleaners lost while he waited in a booth.

Pocono Art Center Opens Exhibition Of Paintings

THE POCONO ART Center is opening an exhibition of paintings March 6 to March 29, in the gallery located above the J. C. Penney store.

Two painters who have shown widely in this area and New York City, are displaying their work. Anne Turri, of Freehold, who has studied at the Hazleton Art League and had a one man show there, has also been represented at Buck Hill Falls, Everhardt Museum, and at the Mondart Gallery and The Little Studio in New York City. She has a current show at the Flatbush Hospital in Brooklyn and in the Art Gallery at Sloanes Fifth Avenue.

Mrs. Cornelius E. Bogart, who has also studied at the Hazleton Art League and New York Art Student's League, won first and second prize in 1958 at the Berwick Art Center and has been represented in shows in Binghamton, N.Y., Lenox, Mass., and Buckhill Falls.

Mrs. Bogart has had a one man show at the Hazleton Art League and won a prize at the Regional Hazleton Art show in 1959.

A reception for the two painters will be held Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m., to which all members and the public are invited. Mrs. Kathryn Kays, who is official hostess for the Pocono Art Center, will arrange the refreshments and serve at the tea as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hanson, Marilyn and Larry Hanson, of Columbia, N. J. are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Court.

The PTA meeting was not held here in February, because members attended the seventh district meeting for Founders' Day, at Stroud Union High School.

Brownies held a business session when new officers were elected as follows: Jennifer Seely, president; Carol Wilson, vice president; Linda Bush, secretary; Phyllis Jennings, game leader; Yona Geshensky, song leader. They recently had a days.

Reserve Effective April 15

NEW Conservation Reserve contracts recently signed by farmers go into effect not later than April 15, 1960, according to David H. Griffith, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The contract provides that it goes into effect when the farmer starts his operations to establish the conservation cover on the cropland under contract but in no case later than April 15, 1960.

Griffith gave this example: A farmer signed a Conservation Reserve contract last Dec. 12, placing all his eligible cropland in the program. He agreed to plant grass on all the contracted land. Preparation of the land for grass seeding was started on March 10, 1960. The contract would then go into effect on March 10.

However, if the start on the preparation for grass seeding did not take place until April 20, the contract would go into effect on April 15.

Griffith reminds all farmers with land in the Conservation Reserve that after the effective date of the contract the land may not be grazed and no crop may be harvested from it during the life of the contract.

Lenten Meditation

MARCH 3 Matthew 6:19-26 Let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. (Galatians 6:9.)

Sometimes we get discouraged in our Christian living. This may be due to the monotony of our work. We may see little beauty in a single color; but put two together, blend them or contrast them, and we are lifted by sheer beauty. We may hear no music in a single note; but when we weave several together harmoniously, we notice the difference.

We become discouraged sometimes because we think that our one aim is to get the job done. But there is another side of the labor story which we so often forget. The Christian view is that we are not making things; we are making men. The most important thing that you and I have to make is not a living, but a life. Let us put patience, kindness, sympathy, courage, and good honest toil into our tasks. Thus we shall be planting eternal truths in our hearts, eternal values into the characters God would have us build.

PRAYER: Our Father, when we become discouraged, help us to look at life through the eyes of Christ. Amid His toil and grief, He saw Thee. In seeing Thee, He found the way to the hearts of people and lived for their good. Help us so to live, in His name. Amen.

Notice To Astronauts: Teeners Right Behind (Or Ahead Of) You

By Eugene Gilbert
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

TEEN-AGERS believe the United States should accelerate its man-in-space program in a determined effort to send the first man to explore the moon. "The first country in space," says Jordan E. Glazov, 17, of Chicago, "will have the power to rule the world. It had better be the United States."

Glazov voiced the sentiments of 64 per cent of nearly 800 young people were questioned on the Russian-American spatial track meet. They want to win, but they are pessimistic. Most think a man will reach the moon within the next five years, and that he will be a Russian. A surprising number would like to be the first human to visit the moon. The majority respect the courage and patriotism of the Mercury Astronauts, one of whom will make the first U. S. manned flight into space.

But the young people are inclined to discount the importance of the invasion of space by man. They regard it simply as another step in man's scientific progress, rather than a monumental development in the history of mankind. Fear of Russia is the teenagers' No. 1 reason for wishing to win the moon race. "If Russia gets there and claims it, they can use it for a station in sending missiles to earth for war on the United States," says 17-year-old Janet M. Bailey of San Francisco.

Among the 33 per cent who are satisfied with the present pace of the space program, most doubt either the importance of the race or the veracity of Russian claims. "Too much importance is placed on this," says Karen Schulze, 17, of Amelia, Ohio. "The United States is doing all right."

"We should learn to live with each other on earth before we try to live in space," says 15-year-old Patricia Kingsley of Detroit. "I don't think Russia has everything she says she has," says Joseph Hanna, 16, of Youngstown, Ohio. "Most of her stories are lies."

And 17-year-old Victor Wong of San Francisco says: "Haste makes waste and it is costing the taxpayer enough money now."

The first moon visit will be made by man by 1965, predict 42 per cent of the young people. Sixty-four per cent say the first visitor will speak Russian, while 24 per cent think he will be an American.

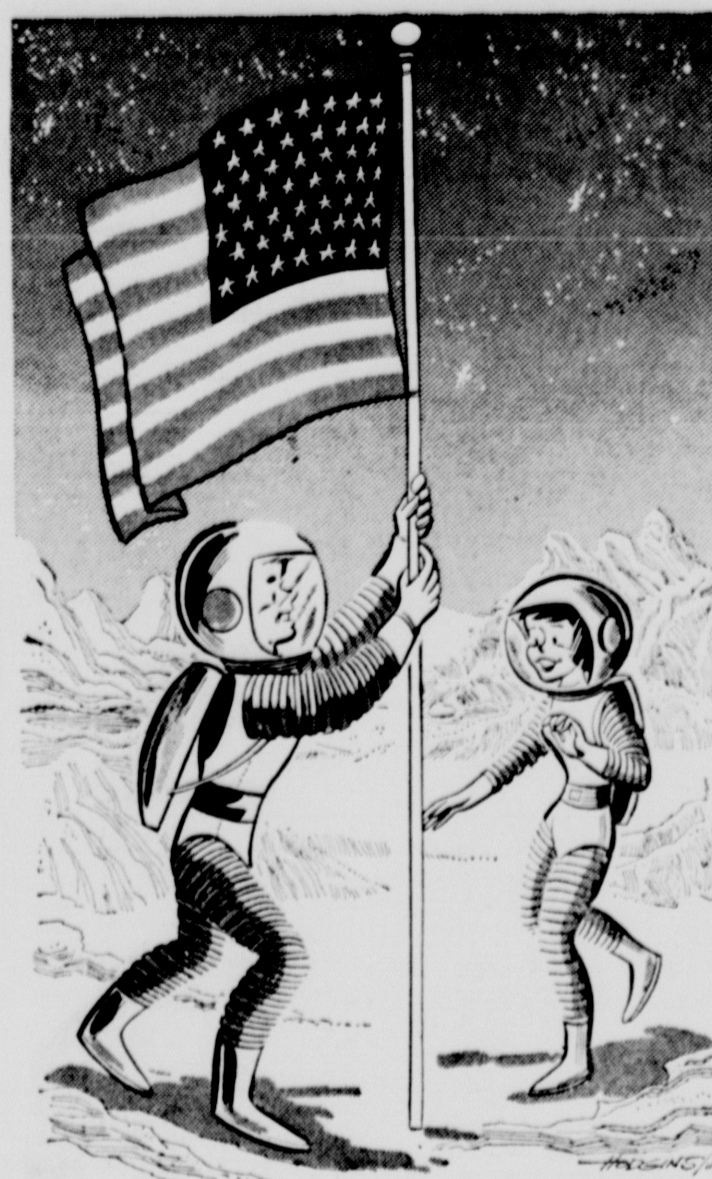

"We want to be sure the man returns," says Michael MacCracken, 17, of Tenafly, N. J., a member of the majority. "I don't believe the Russians seriously consider the safety of the man."

Would Shoot to the Moon About 25 per cent of the youngsters—38 per cent of the boys and 11 per cent of the girls—say they would like to be the first person to reach the moon.

"It would be a privilege," says 14-year-old David McLintock of Brooklyn. "The scientists could learn a lot of information from me which could benefit mankind."

Among the 75 per cent who have no desire for a moon trip, most agree with Victor Wong ("I'm afraid of the unknown") or 16-year-old Al Tavoriano of Struthers, Ohio ("There's nothing up there").

We asked the 25 per cent who were interested, "Would you still go if it were not certain you would come back?" Fourteen per cent say they would still be willing, 9 per cent say they would not, and 41 per cent say they would need further thought on the subject.

Richard Hirsch, 18, of Chicago, feels "the idea of not coming back serves as a sort of challenge which I could not turn down."

When we asked the young people how they feel about the seven astronauts, most said they consider them brave and patriotic. But there are some who feel they are out for fame, or are just plain foolish and reckless.

"They are out for self-glory," says Frank A. Chamberlain, 17, of Olean, N. Y. "because it is a very hard thing to ask of anybody to go out in space unless they want self-glory."

Fifty-one per cent of the teenagers regard the events taking place in man's conquest of space as simply scientific progress, while 40 per cent classify them as something very special in the history of man.

Paid Jewish Holiday

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Colonial Metals Co. of nearby Columbia has agreed to give employees a paid holiday on a Jewish holy day. None of the employees is Jewish. But some of the company officials are.

In negotiations ended Tuesday, the 40 United Steelworkers asked for an extra paid holiday. The company offered the sabbath between the Jewish New Year and the Day of Atonement.

The employees sought the religious holiday off because they claimed the plant had been closed and they weren't paid. The holiday was part of a wage package.

To Draw Up Plans

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Unconfirmed press reports said Wednesday Arab defense ministers will begin contacts shortly to draw up unified military plans to face a possible Israeli diversion of the course of the River Jordan. This move, the reports say, follows the recent proclamation by Arab League foreign ministers at Cairo that any attempts by Israel to divert the river will be regarded by all Arab states as aggression.

The Mayflower which arrived in Plymouth, Mass., on Dec. 21, 1620, was three-masted. It had a speed of about 2½ miles per hour.

Last Of Buffalo Herd Inoculated

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Twenty buffalo, the last of a herd, received inoculations yesterday that will determine whether they live or die.

The inoculations will test them for tuberculosis. If the results are positive they will be destroyed. The findings will be turned over to the State Game Commission in Harrisburg on Friday.

The buffalo are the last of the herd roaming the 1,100-acre Trexler-Lehigh game preserve. Last November the herd was tested and nine had TB. They were destroyed.

At that time, game commissioners said the entire herd would be destroyed if any more contract the lung disease.

No one has been able to determine how the buffalo contracted the disease. Other animals on the preserve have not been infected.

Catholic Priest Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — The Rev. John Gallagher, 59, a priest of the Roman Catholic Order of Redemptorists who has served in Ontario and in the Maritimes, died yesterday.

A native of Montreal, Father Gallagher studied at St. Mary's College, Northeast, Pa., and was ordained at the Redemptorists Seminary, Esopus, N. Y., in 1926.

MacDeGaulle Talks

PARIS (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will come to Paris for talks with President Charles de Gaulle March 12 and 13, the President's office announced yesterday. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is due here for a two-week visit starting March 15. De Gaulle will be able to have useful talks with Macmillan just before seeing the Soviet leader.

Fire Damages Philly School

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A third-floor classroom was damaged by flames 10 minutes after the 500 pupils in the parochial school went home for lunch yesterday.

The blaze was brought under control quickly. The cause of the fire — in St. Malachy's Roman Catholic parochial school — was not known.

Perishes In Fire

NANTICOKE (AP) — Edward Benson, 39, of Nanticoke was burned to death yesterday in a field near his home.
